6 Write about different people's wishes or expectations (→ PB p. 71; Grammar → PB G14)

A girl from New York has decided to do a rock-climbing course in a canyon in Utah next month. Read what different people say to her and find the right ideas to complete the sentences.

W6
49/6

- "You should go to the gym."
- "Please tell me about it."
- "You can send photos to my cell phone!"
- "You don't have to call every day." ✓
- "Don't forget me!"
- "I wish you'd do a different activity."

1. Her mother hopes she will phone home, but does not expect her to call every day.
2. Her brother wants to see the canyon and would like her to send photos to his cell phone.
3. Her best friend thinks she should get fit before the course. She advises her to go to the gym.
4. Her grandfather is very interested in the course and wants her to tell him (about it).
5. Her father thinks it sounds dangerous and would prefer her to do a different activity.
6. Her boyfriend is worried she might meet another guy. He does not want her to forget him.

8 Match the words in A and B to complete the text (→ PB p. 72; Grammar → PB G14)

A the first problem • the only thing • the worst place • the best person • the last

B to have • to go • to deal with • to do • to cross

"Ed is a nice guy, but on Sunday Rob and I discovered he isn't the best person to go hiking with! Ed had the map, and the first problem to deal with was how to find the trail again after we had gotten lost. Rob and I managed to get across a little river, but Ed was the last to cross and he slipped and hurt his leg. It was the worst place to have an accident – we were miles from anywhere and without a phone. In the end the only thing to do was to carry Ed all the way back."
